Do we know what's causing the big buy ins? I'm excited but don't see any news to push this? Maybe LBRY focusing its mission on dropping off the LBRY.tv front end?

As before, it seems it's driven in Korea: <https://upbit.com/exchange?code=CRIX.UPBIT.KRW-LBC>

Possibly because the comments by jkauff in a recent thread. One of them hinted that LBC will become more accessible soon, so that might be one of the drivers.

What I'm certain of is that these rallies in Korea would be much bigger if LBC was on more exchanges. If that happens, I do expect this to explode.

And it's only just beginning... Let's see what happens when BTC reaches a new peak.

It looks like the exchange rate with BTC is quite flat over past couple of months.

Yeah, seems to track bitcoin. I look at it this way: ETH did the same before it broke free :)

As I mentioned in another comment, if LBC gets on more exchanges, this will explode - $1 will be low.

Bought in to the tune of 2,000 LBC at $0.10 apiece; I regret not doing so earlier, but then it's only since this year that Odysee has really begun to establish itself as something more than a flavour-of-the-month glorified Youtube content-aggregator.

sigan comprando, soy optimista, porque siempre subiré videos y estoy a largo plazo....¿llegara a un dolar? por qué no? en el 2018 estaba por ahí.

This was hinted at in a discussion yesterday:

LBC account balance not in sync

Hi. I have an LBRY account and have logged into it from Odysee.com and the LBRY desktop app.

The amount of credits in my account are frequently different on Odysee.com vs LBRY desktop app. For example, on Odysee.com, many times, it will say I have 200 credits, but only 10 on LBRY desktop app. This usually happens after I upload videos. After a while, the LBRY desktop app will update and say it has 200 credits.

How to fix this? Thanks.

0.52.5 On Win7 64 crashes

What it says in the title. It crashes whenever I try to play a video. Is there a place where I can get previous versions just to see what works?

Thanks.
